

The Pill doesn't protect you from sexually transmitted infections!

Having sex just to be cool isn't cool.

You don't have to have sex to show someone you love him or her.

There are responsibilities and risks that come with sex.

You can't tell by looking that someone has HIV or any other STI. HIV and other STIs often don't have symptoms!

SEX

+ HIV

It's okay to say "NO" if you don't feel comfortable doing something.

Having sex means that you have to be mature enough to deal with the consequences.

Alcohol and drugs increase your risks of getting infected. Any drug that affects your head makes it harder for you to make decisions that will keep you safe and healthy.

IT'S WORTH KNOWING THE FACTS AND RISKS

If you're not comfortable talking about sex, you should think twice about having sex.

for more info:

Condoms won't spoil the mood. But an unintended pregnancy or a sexually transmitted infection will!

No one EVER has the right to pressure or force someone into having sex. EVER.

Canadian HIV/AIDS Information Centre

Canadian Public Health Association
The services you can trust

Published by the Canadian HIV/AIDS Information Centre, a program of the Canadian Public Health Association in cooperation with AIDS service providers and people living with or affected by HIV/AIDS throughout Canada, March 2004. Production of this document has been made possible by a financial contribution from the Canadian Strategy on HIV/AIDS, Health Canada. The views expressed herein do not necessarily represent the official policy of Health Canada.